Making Tar, Coal and Gas by Machinery. THE attention and interest of the citizens of Wilmington and surrounding country of North Carolina are, and have been sometime since, attracted by a complete and simple apparatus for the purpose of manufacturing tar and coal, and generating gas from lightwood.

The above machine was invented by Dr. Wm P. McConnell, an eminent chemist of Washington City, D. C., and having obtained a patent right for the United States for the same, he has associated himself with Veirs & Townshend, Labratory, will be charged $100. No other extras are under the style of Veirs. Townshend & Co.

For the purpose of manufacturing and carrying on the business, they have had an apparatus constructed in Baltimore, sufficient to contain three cords of wood, and located on the place of Jas. R. Grist, Esq., near Livingston Creek, in Brunswick county, N. C., from whom they have purchased all the lightwood on about six thousand acres of pine land, where they have been operating; but not being organized at present to carry on the business to much extent, and feeling desirous to introduce and show the utility and profitableness of said business, they have recently had constructed a small apparatus, near the Railroad in this place, from which a few days ago, they have given perfect satisfaction to all who A Road Company are hereby notified that the Fourteenth | witnessed its operation, in regard to the surprising yield of Instalment of five dollars per share on their subscription is tar from a cord of an average quality of lightwood, besides the coal and gas, which is stated in certificate below by gentlemen who witnessed the operation.

WILMINGTON, N. C., May 27, 1852. We, the undersigned, certify that on yesterday, the 25th inst., we witnessed in this place the operation of manufacturing Tar, Coal and Gas, by Veirs, Townshend & Co's patent charring machine, and that it gave the most perfect satisfaction. THAYER'S PATENT BUIDGE. A NEW and valuable trestle Bridge has been patented by Mr. G. W. Thayer, of Massachusetts, which will be found to be an important invention. The amount of strength attained by the structure is spoken of as being wonderful.— The inventor feels confident that no weight which could be placed upon it, could break it down. This consideration, aken together with the economy with which it may be built. will render it worthy the attention of all who are interested in the subject. This bridge is adapted peculiarly to Railroads as well as county roads, as it can be made of any required span, so as not to obstruct the navigation of streams when rafts or boats might be desired to pass, and can also be built at a very moderate expense.

The Commencement exercises at this institution, ast week, were highly interesting and encouraging to the frien is of education. A large concourse of people attended on both Wednesday and Thursday; and so far as we have heard, all were pleased. The speech of Gen. R M Saunders before the Litera v Societies, on the History and Resources of North Carolina, was de ivered on Wednesday; and on Wednesday night, at a large and respectable meeting of the friends of Education, held in the College Chapel, impromptu addresses were delivered by Gen. Saunders, Rev Mr. James, Dr. Wheeler, Rev. B. T Blake and Dr Lewis. We understand the speeches were pithy, and the whole proceedings were entertaining. We were not present until Thursday, when orations were delivered by the graduating Class, and degrees were conferred by President White, who closed the exercises with a short but very pertinent address. The graduates acquitted themselves handsomely Their addresses were remarkab'e for classic elegance, and were well delivered; the whole being highly creditable to themselves and their instructors. We are pleased to add that the evidences of the growing prosperity and popularity of the institution were abundant and grati-

From the New-York Spirit of the Times. A Dear Dinner.

DEAR P: At the last "Hen Convention" in our city, some six weeks since, a motual friend of ours residing in the suburbs of our metropolis, came to the city in the morning to attend the " hen fair," where he purchased a very large and beautiful pair of Shanghai fowls, to breed from; and, as he was to remain in town until evening, he sent the birds by a boy, with tures a short time back in this place. For sale at manufac- a note to a friend of his living at the Albion, requesting that he would take charge of the chickens until the afternoon, as he had some matters of business that would detain him; he also told the boy to say he would dine with him at 4 o'clock. The boy del vered the fowls, but forgot the note, and simply remarked, "Here's a pair of rousing big chickens Mr. M --- s sent you, and says he will dine with you at 4 o'clock." The gentleman supposing that his friend (who by the way, knows a hawk from a hand-saw, and a canvas-back from a broiled owl!) had sent him something extra, ordered them to be given to the cook, with directions that they be killed and dressed at once, as he had a friend to dine with him at 4 P. M. The order was accordingly obeyed, and, at the appointed time, the dinner served. After imbibling sundry " wine bitall to gain it. A nation, too, of singularly generous and I half barrels, and in bags, constantly on hand, and for ters," as a sharpener to their appetites, they sat down, and the Shanghai owner was requested to carve; and as he was dissecting the enormous cute mem-

And so he continued praising the rich flavor of the Livery Stables of H R. Bill instantly jumped up from the table, and rammed his hands up to his elbows in his breeches pockets, and after striding across the room some half dozon times, without uttering a word, but his eyes all the while with "fine frenzy rolling," stopped short, and turning to his friend, exclaimed, with no little jesticulation-

"Good God, Jim! I paid thirty five dollars for that pair of fowls this morning! Didn't that cussed boy give you a note this morning, when he left the chickens ?" "No," said Jim "he gave me no note, he simply handed me the Shanghais, and said you would dine with me at four! Therefore, I had them roasted!" Bill instantly rushed for his horse and wagon, and has not been seen in the city but once since, and then cotton, for fear he would hear some one say Shanghai! A few days since, while passing his rasidence, I dropped in upon him for an hour, and after a while ventured to touch upon the different breeds of poultry, hut at once discovered a wildness about Bill's eyes, and therefore discontinued the topic. Then he said,
